DESERTED BY THE BREWERS. There Will Be Only 150 Saloons is Omaha Next Year.

Those who anticipate retailing liquor in Omaha during 1891 are at the present time hustling to complete their preliminary arrangements. There, will, perhaps, be ninety fewer saloons next year than there were last year At least, the indications point that way.
Last year 240 licenses were granted. Up to the present time only 150 persons have applied to the commissioners for blanks. As a reason for the reduction of the number of saloons It is stated the brewers are not as anxious to back retailers as freely as they have done in the past.

One brewer said: "I am sure there will not be as many saloons as there were last year. Our firm has lost too much money on bad saloon debts to take chances on anything but sound fellows this season. There are men here from lowa and central Nebraska looking for location but unless they have each enough to location, but unless they have cash enough to pay for their licenses and a little more they may as well return home, for the brewers not back them. Last year poor year for t anticipate in 1891 but do not propose to take the chancee we have taken in the past."

Last year the license board required appli-cants, when they filed their petition for a license, to furnish a receipt from the treas-urer showing they had deposited $1,000. This year the board is more lenient. The money does not now have to be paid until after the application has been adver-tised. All applications must have been advertised for two weeks before the license board can take any action. In accordance with this ract, the saloon men should file their applications and advertise before the 15th,in order to give the board an opportunity to act on their petition before the first of the year. Several saloons have already closed and will not be again opened

The New Police Commission. There is beginning to be some little talk in police circles with reference to the composition of the next fire and police commis sion. The governor has the power to appoint practically whom he pleases as members of the board, and the terms of some of the present members of the board will expire with the year. Should Governor-elect Boyd succeed in holding the office to which he was elected, he, of course, will have the pleasure of filling these much soughtfor places, and will probably fill to the satisfaction of the better classes of the city. But should Mr. Powers, who is contesting the election of Mr. Boyd, be given the office by vote of the legislature, it is thought by leading men in this city that there will be a pretty kettle of ish in Omaha with reference to the men whom Powers will appoint on the police commission. Of course at this time it is all specularity. tion, but from the talk going about town it is evident that to the salconkeepers at least this is a mighty interesting subject.

Rysschart is Barred. Contractor Rysschart, who graded Emmett street and against whom material men and laborers have claims of about $1,800, has just found out that he cannot do any more work for the city. Samuel Katz has the contract for grading on South Eleventh street, and the other day sub-let the job to Rysschart. Yesterday Chairman Birkhauser of the board of public works learned of the deal and wrote Mr. Katz as follows: "It must be distinctly understood that, knowing the record of Ryss-chart, from this time bence, while I am a member of the board, he cannot have a city contract, nor can he act as foreman on any work that is being performed for the city."

is the title of a recent charming pape by that brillagt writer Charles Dudley Warner, wherein the glories of the Pacific coast, as a winter resort, are most graphically described. The American people are beginning to understand that the Puget Sound country is one of our most splendid possessions and that the name of the "Mediterranean of the Pacific" is a happy title not misapplied. In speaking of Mount Tacoma, Senator George F. Edmunds says:

"I would be willing to go 500 miles again to see that scene. The continent is yet in ignorance of what will be one is yet in ignorance of what will be one of the grandest show places as well as sanitariums. If Switzerland is rightly called the playground of Europe, I am satisfied that around the base of Mount Rainier will become a prominent place of resort, not for America only, but for the world begins with thousands of sites for builds. ides, with thousands of sites for building purposes, that are nowhere excelled for the grandeur of the view that can be obtained from them, with topographical features that would make the most per-fect system of drainage both possible and easy, and with a most agreeable and health giving climate."

Thousands of delighted tourists over the Union Pacific the past year bear ample testimony to the beauty and majesty of this new empire of the Pacific northwest.

REBATE CLAIMS. They Are Made by Lowry of Lincoln from the B. & M.

Judge Caldwell took up the case of Lowry against the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway company on a motion by the plaintiff to remand the case to the district court in Lancaster county.

The case is one involving $140,000 claimed as rebate or overcharge on shipments of grain from Lincoln to eastern points, the transactions covering a period of about five years.

The case was appealed to the United States court by the defendant on the ground that the issue involved the construction of a section of the inter-state commerce act, and it was claimed that a rate which had been officially published and posted could not be challenged The plaintiff moved to remand on the ground that the question at issue was one of law only.

The arguments on the motion consumed nearly the entire day.

In Judge Dundy's court the case against Abner Peeler, the counterfeiter, who is charged with having counterfeit gold coins in his possession with intent to defraud, was concluded at noon and given to the jury.

The jury returned at the opening of court in the afternoon with a verdict of 'not guilty." Peeler was at once discharged.

After consuming four days in argument, the case of Fitzgerald against the Fitzgerald.

the case of Fitzgerald against the Fitzgerald-Mallory construction company and the Mis-souri Pacific, for an accounting, was contin-ued until March 15, to give the plantiff time to file additional briefs.

The court announced that the application for a rehearing in the Nebraska City bridge bonds would be heard before a full bench on the 15th inst.

the 15th inst. Judge Dundy spent most of the afternoon in dealing with offenders against the laws of the government. The case against Fred Wiggins was put on for trial. Wiggins is a young man from Indianola, and on the 12th day of September he went into John Augus-tiamann's restaurant, where he passed a bogus dellar in payment for his dinner. A few days later he was arrested, and upon his person was found a quantity of the spurious

AS FINE AS THEY MAKE 'EM.

We want to say a word to you about FINE OVERCOATS. By that we mean garments made of materials such as your tailor makes to order and charges twenty-five, thirty-five, forty, fifty and even sixty dollars for. We sell that sort of coats, but not at that sort of prices. You go to your tailor, he takes your measure, pats you on the back, turns you around three or four times, remarks on your fine figure, says he'll put his best coat maker on your coat (they're all best coat makers), and says: "Oh! Yes! I'll have your coat done for you Saturday night SURE." You put on your old coat and go home, you put it on every time you go out and each time it seems to look shabbier than before until Saturday night when you put it on for the last time and go to your tailors with a bright smile and a determination to owe him for it (couldn't do that with us) and are met with the cheerful intelligence that "our best workman was taken sick and it was impossible to get your coat out." Its different when you buy a garment of us. You come into our store, state your needs, hundreds to choose from, every shape, every size, every style, sure to get a fit. You make your selection, no waiting, no annoyance and you've saved money besides.

THE COATS WE SPEAK OF TODAY Are made by men who have made a life study of the clothing business, who buy thousands of yards of the best goods made direct from the mills, who buy trimmings by the case, who employ the best workmen money can hire, who by making thousands of coats instead of dozens are able to turn out a coat ready to wear for what your tailor pays for his materials.

WE OPEN TODAY A RECENT PURCHASE

THE OVERBECK ACCIDENT.

The Trainmen and Others Tell How the Man Was Killed.

The inquest to determine the cause of death of Martin Overbeck, who was killed by a Belt line train Sunday evening, was continued yesterday morning, the first witness being Dr. Peabody, who testified that he attended the injured man at the Webster street station and found him apparently asieep. His breath smelled very strongly of liquor and the physician found an abrasion of the skin on the right, side of the bedy. The marks rules was good and he was abrasion of the skin on the right side of the body. The man's pulse was good and he was taken to his home in a carriage. At his home he walked up two flights of stairs and took off his own clothes. The physician left, thinking the man was only severely bruised. Soon after he was sent for again and found the man dying. After death a post mortem examination revealed the fact that the liver was ruptured badly in two places and slightly in two other places. Death resulted from shock and from the nongrated blood getting into the lungs.

A. C. Wise, the motorman on the train near the accident, saw the dummy coming and stopped his train. He heard his conductor calling to some one and conductor calling to some one and saw a buggy containing a man and a woman coming rapidly from the south. The driver attempted to cross the track but turned be-fore he had crossed and attempted to get out of the way. The engine struck the buggy and threw the occupants out. E. C. Marsh, the conductor of the motor

E. C. Marsh, the conductor of the motor train, said he saw the buggy coming, and saw that the woman had the man by the arm trying to get him to stop. The witness called to them but they kept right on. When the engine struck the buggy the man was thrown about twenty feet and the witness helped him to a sitting posture. Blood gushed from his mouth, but he was conscious.

Mr. Harry Gilmore, the superintendent of the Belt cline, testified that trainmen all had orders to run slow over the bridge immediately east of the scene of the accident. He also east of the scene of the accident. He also said that the engine used on the Belt line dummy train was usually run backward in coming into Omaha. The tender was so con-structed that it afforded a good view of the track.

This completed the testimony and the jury returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from his own carelessness. The jury also recommended that the fence around the fair ground be taken down so as to leave an unobstructed view of the track from the south.
